PESTALOZZIAN SOCIETY

PESTALOZZIAN ACTIVITIES

When our school year is ended on June 7th the Pestalozzian Literary Society will have concluded one of the most successful years of its existence. In the year just passed this society has been of untold benefit both in a social and an instructive way to the dormitory men of State Teachers College.

The programs of the society have been featured by many well-known speakers, among whom were S. D. Jackson and Supt. Roy Bigelow of the Johnson City Schools. Other features of the programs have been moving pictures, special music and talks and other parts of the programs taken by the members themselves. It was through the courtesy of the society that the Men's Hall lobby was furnished with newspapers and the best magazines of the day. One of the most highly enjoyed occasions sponsored by the society was the Men's Dormitory 'Open House', given in the winter quarter and attended by several hundred Coeds, faculty members and friends.

Two sets of officers of the society were elected each serving one-half of the school year. These were as follows:

FIRST SEMESTER

President	-----	Nathan Jones
Vice-President	-----	Lloyd Thornton
Sec.-Treas.	-----	Lawrence Courtney
Sgt.-at-Arms	-----	Pryor 'Popeye' Hunt

SECOND SEMESTER

MADRIGAL SINGERS

MUSIC ACTIVITIES

During the year now closing the glee club has completed four principal units of work. Given in conjunction with the orchestra, the first of these, the customary concert before the student body, augered aright the successful season in store for the club. Also a part of this concert was repeated when the legislators were visiting the school. At the Christmas concert, comprising the second unit, the club continued its tradition of performing carols from different countries; France, Haiti, Russia, and Poland being the ones selected this year. Marking especially the activities of the winter quarter was a visit to Rutledge, for this is the longest trip that the club has ever made en masse. Finally, in bringing its year to a triumphant close, the club produced "The Spanish Grandee," an operetta representing probably the best aggregation of musicians this school has seen. Then, after this, thus successful operetta the club treated itself to a well-earned picnic.

ATHLETICS

WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL DEPARTMENT

The Women's Intramural Department has just completed a very successful year under the capable direction of the manager, the assistant manager, and the heads of sports. Each activity was entered into by a larger number of girls than in the past years, and we feel that these girls who are taking part in this department, in addition to their classwork, will be far better prepared to teach as they have a more rounded education.

The following is a list of the year's activities and the champions of each: Volleyball—Sophomores; Basketball—Sophomores; Baseball—Sophomores; Ping Pong—Anne Bryant; Foul Shooting—Wilma Dean Sherrod; Horseshoe—Hazel Chandler; Croquet—Nancy Hale.

This, the second year for the circus which was sponsored by the Physical Education Department, was again a great success due to the willingness and co-operation of both the women's and men's departments and the Training School students.

A play, "The Drunkard; or, The Fallen Saved", an old familiar, rip-roaring, fast moving, soul-searing melodrama portraying the evils of the mauve decade, gave the audience many laughs but kept them spellbound until the final curtain.

BUCCANEERS, 1934

FOOTBALL

Coach Gene McMurray and his assistant, Harvey McCall sent out the call for football candidates on Sept. 10. Among the 40 men responding were Captain Hunt, Massengill, Congdon, Wayman, Taylor, Boyer, Parsley, Peters, Burleson, Anderson, Graves, Miller and Bales, all letter men of previous seasons. Along with these were a host of last years reserves and freshmen with brilliant high school records. Among those were Jamison, Smith, Lucas, Shields, Clark, Jones and others.

The season opened in Bristol on the night of Oct. 5, against the "Red Tornado" of King College. The Buccaneers were never able to hit their stride in this game, being handicapped by the ankle deep mud and being unaccustomed to the floodlights. The crew got their only touch down on a pass from Boyer to Massengill. The final score was 14-7. Hunt and Boyer played a great game in the backfield. The play of Bowman and Massengill was best in the line.

On the following Saturday the Carson-Newman Eagles were met at Keystone field before a large crowd of spectators. The Buccaneers were in striking distance of the goal at different times but were unable to push the oval over until the closing minutes of the game when the Teachers blocked a punt and Hunt carried the ball over on a one yard drive through the line. The Eagles had scored earlier in the game, and the game ended in a 6-6 deadlock. The play of Hunt in the backfield and Peters in the line were the best of the day for the Blue and Gold.

On Oct. 20 the Buccaneers moved on to Cullow-hee where they completely outplayed the Tar Heels in all departments of the game, but were able to put only one marker across the goal line. Wayman scored on a pass. The Catamounts scored a safety for two points. Wayman and Massengill played brilliantly at ends. Congdon was outstanding at tackle.

Coach McMurray pitted his charges against his Alma Mater in Maryville on Oct. 26. This was perhaps the best play the boys exhibited during the season. They completely whipped the Highlanders to the tune of 19 to 6. It would be hard to pick the stars of a game like this. However Hunt, Boyer, and Anderson were the most consistent ground gainers.

On Nov. 3 Union College of Kentucky furnished the State professors plenty of opposition at Keystone Field. Neither was able to reach the coveted line on the gridiron. Jamison and Burleson did some beautiful ball toting that afternoon. Smith, Clark, and Graves were best in the line. The game ended with the score just as it started 0-0.

The Blue and Gold colors were carried into the land of pretty girls and fast horses on Nov. 10 at Morehead, Ky. The Buccaneers were able to pile up a 12-0 lead in the first half, but the blue grass team came back strong the second half to win 13-12. Hunt made both of the State Team's touchdowns. Other outstanding players for the Teachers were Massengill, Parsley, and Burleson.

The next game was played at Tusculum College. This was a great pigskin battle. The score of 6-0 in favor of the Teachers lacks much showing the

BASKETBALL

The season opened in Mountain City with the great Emory and Henry Wasps. The Buccaneers dropped this game to the Virginia team by the score of 56-27. As usual, Roberts did the greatest damage for the Wasps.

The home season opened with Cullowhee in two games. The Buccaneers showed great form in disposing of the Catamounts 40-37 and 44-39. Crouch and Massengill were the leading scorers in these games. Massengill scored 21 points in the last game.

The L. M. U. Railsplitters visited the State campus next. The Buccaneers captured this game by the score of 44-34. Todd played well at guard. Crouch led the scoring.

The Appalachian Teachers of Boone, N. C., were next to fall victim of the fast-breaking Blue and Gold attack. In this game Freshman Dyer broke into the limelight to follow in the steps of his brothers, former stars of the hardwood at T. C.

In Jefferson City the Buccaneers dropped their first conference game 47-45 to the Carson-Newman Eagles. The professors were leading until the closing seconds of the game. McCall played a steady game at guard.

The next game was played with Tusculum on their court. The Buccaneers were never able to get going in this game and the decision went to Tusculum 36-21.

The Conference Champions, Maryville took the next game from the Teachers 37-27. The Buccaneers played well in this game but could not overcome the superior play of their hosts.

Over at Boone in North Carolina the Buccaneers proved they could win on road trips. In this game the Buccaneers played one of the best games of the season. They put up a great scoring attack to win 49-29. McCall played his best game of the year. Kilday played well at center.

Once again at home the Blue and Gold hopes were smothered again by Emory and Henry. They lost by the score of 44-20 in a game featured by the appearance of one "Lightening" Bowen popular T. C. freshman who jumped against the great Roberts in the last few minutes of play.

Tusculum visited the Buccaneers next and were handed at 56-42 defeat by the Buccaneers. This put the Teachers back in the win column again.

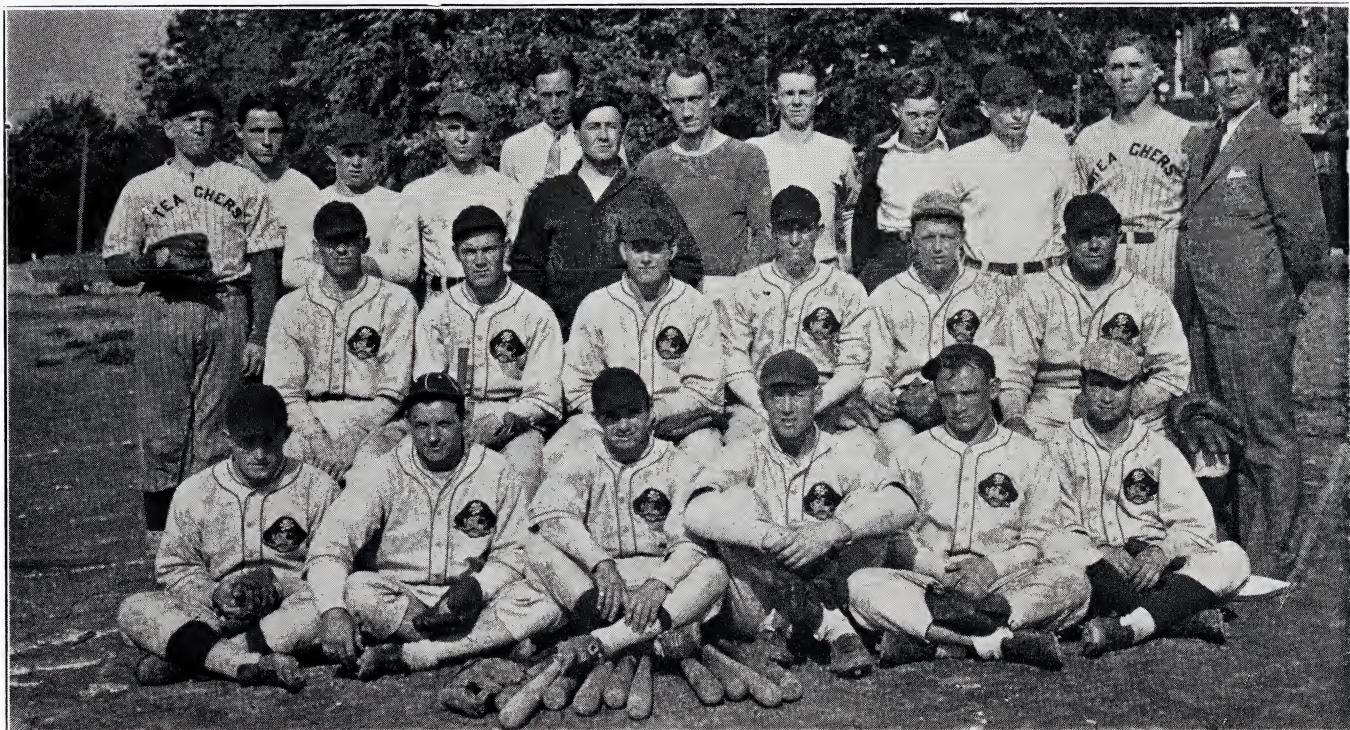

The Buccaneers were invited to take part in the Lincoln Day festivities at Harrogate on Feb. 12. They contributed their part in the program by licking the Emancipators 43-41. Todd played a great game.

Milligan, that ancient rival, was next. The buccaneers moved on to Milligan followed by the faculty, student body, cooks and janitors, determined to avenge that defeat which they did to the tune of 32-17. Milligan did not score a field goal the first half. Crouch led the scoring for the Teachers.

In the next contest the Buccaneers lost to Maryville 43-29. The services of Crouch, one of the best offensive men ever to don the Blue and Gold, was greatly missed in this game as well as the ones to follow. He was unable to play the remaining games of the schedule due to an attack of flu.

The Buccaneers took the next game from Carson-Newman 29-26. In this game Thornton and Oakes, reserve forwards, played well the entire game.

The end of the season came with a defeat at the hands of Milligan. The Buccaneers were badly crippled in this game; Crouch was out and McCall was playing with an injured back. The Buffaloes won 36-21.

BASEBALL

With McCall, Todd, Chambers, Miller, Taylor, Boyer, Sams and Cartwright all lettermen of former years and Hilton, McNabb, Bailey, Kilday, Garland and other new comers it looked as though the Buccaneers would duplicate the feat of last year again and again wear the championship crown of the Smoky Mountain Conference. However, records to date do not show that the Buccaneers have any claim to the laurels. The team was greatly handicapped by the rain and cold until well up into the season.

The pitching of McCall has been excellent. Sams, Garland, and Todd have pitched fair ball. The fielding and hitting has not been what it should be.

The season opened with Carson-Newman here in a double-header. McCall held the Eagles to two lone hits while he and his mates got four hits off of Layman, yet he had to lose through costly errors 3-1.

Sams pitched the second game and let the Eagles down with four hits. He lost 7-3. The Buccaneers were able to muster only three bingles.

Maryville came to town the following week for a two game series. In the first game the Highlanders were able to get nine runs out of 10 hits and two Teachers Colleges errors. The professors collected 9 hits which was good for only 4 runs.

The next game was the poorest exhibition of baseball a Teachers College team ever was known to play. Maryville hit four T. C. slab men for 14 hits. This connected with five miscues by the fielders gave the Scotties 17 runs. The Buccaneers got 6 hits that resulted in five runs.

The first road trip was to Harrogate where L.

M. U. took a double header from the State team 7-6 and 4-3. In the first game the veteran hurler McCall held the Rail Splitters to five base blows. He and his mates collected 11 hits which were good only for six runs. Todd pitched the next game. He gave only 7 hits, while his team hit 9 times, yet we lost another 4-3.

It was down in Jefferson City, the nesting place of the Carson-Newman Eagles, that the ice was finally broken. Bud McCall did some fancy pitching and made the Eagles be satisfied with three hits. The Buccaneers hit the horse hide to all corners of the park to win 11-1. Todd contributed two triples and two singles for five trips to the plate.

The Buccaneers were unable to hit in the nightcap of this series and lost the second game 9-0.

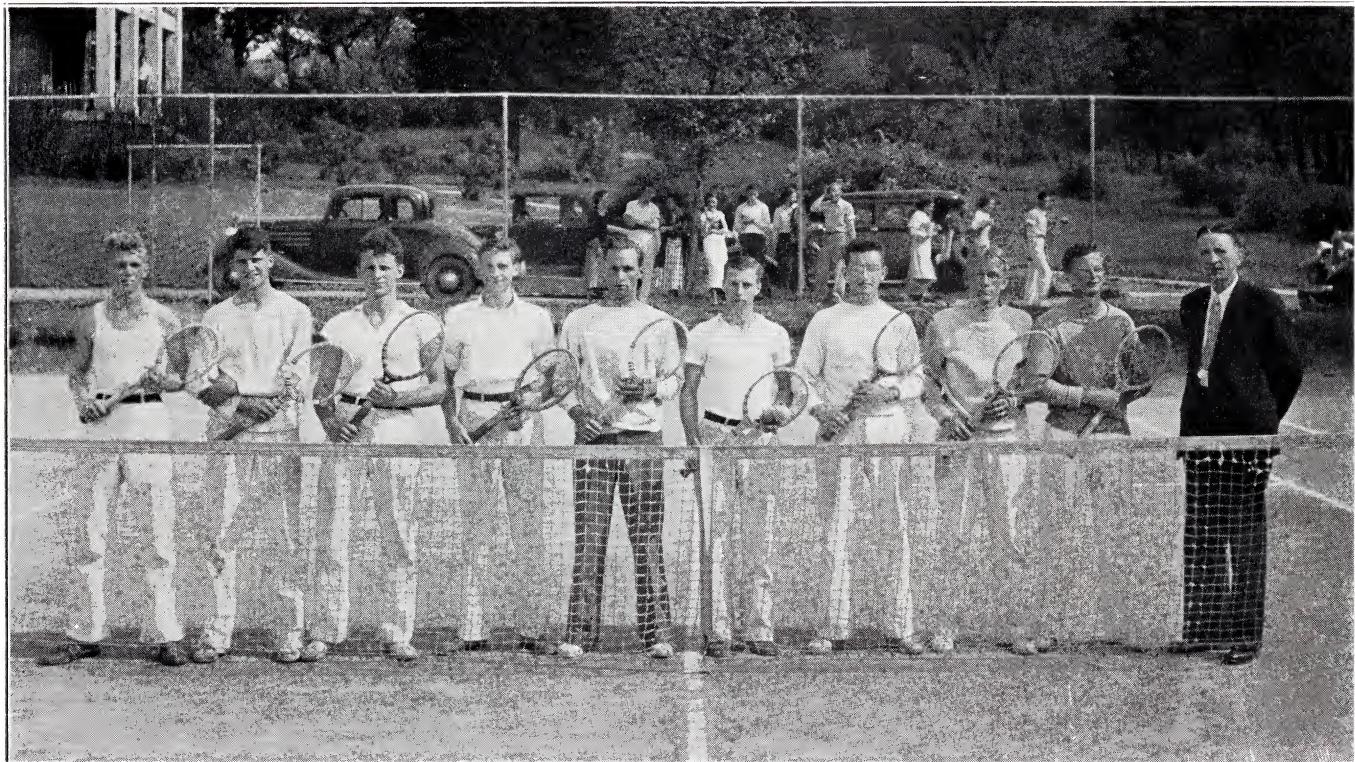

The Emory and Henry Wasps were the next to wallop the Buccaneers. They made a clean sweep of the two game series at Emory. Winning the first 8-7, and the next 8-6. In the first game the State boys out hit the Old Dominion team, the Buccaneers hit safely 13 times while the Wasps hit only 8 times. Unnecessary booting of the ball in the field cost the game.

The Wasps made 13 hits in the closing fray, which was good for 8 runs. The professors got 10 hits but crossed the plate only 6 times.

Perhaps the best baseball team the Teachers have played was the Bemberg team of Elizabethton. Sams held the Bembergers to four lone hits, while he and his mates hit safely 10 times to win 8-0.

Six more games remain on the Teachers schedule. Two each with Emory and Henry, Maryville and Hiwassee.

McCall, star pitcher, and Miller, third baseman, are playing their last year for the Blue and Gold colors.

TENNIS

The Buccaneer Racqueteers have made quiet an impressive showing in this section this year. They have won six of their first nine matches.

Dr. Wheeler had three letter men returning from last year's squad. Oakes, Shelton, and Sams, who play No. 1, 2, and 3 man respectively, are the ones retained from last year's squad. The squad was boosted by Leach, Pickering, Hal and Charles Sherrod, Baird, and Carson, all of whom are fancy wielders of the racquet.

The first match was played here with King College, which the Buccaneers easily won 4-1. All of the players showed mid-season form and gave a beautiful exhibition of the gentleman's game in the opening contest.

The Boone net men, who are known far and near as great tennis players, came to the local courts next, where they defeated the Teachers 3-2 in a five point match.

In a return match at Boone, the Buccaneers lost again 4-2.

Emory and Henry was the next to fall victim of the mighty strokes of the Buccaneers. They made a clean sweep of the first match, winning 4-0.

In a return engagement at Emory, the Wasps were again defeated, this time 4-3 in a seven point match.

The best matches ever seen on the Teachers College courts were the two matches played with Milligan. Every set of the two matches was hotly contested. The Buccaneers were able to win both matches of a very, very busy afternoon. The first match was won by the score 3-2, and the last encounter by the score 4-3. Both teams showed form rarely ever exhibited in college tennis.

The State team dropped their match to Tusculum at Tusculum by the score 3-2, but from all reports this must have been a fine match.

There remains a number of games on the schedule yet to be played. Those to be played here are: Tusculum, King, Erwin Y. M. C. A., Bemberg, and Kingsport Country Club. The racqueteers are also making a trip down state where they will encounter T. P. I., Middle Tennessee Teachers, Cumberland, Sewanee, and Tennessee Wesleyan.

None of this years team will be lost through graduation. Oakes and Shelton are Juniors, all other members are from the Sophomore and Freshman Class. Much will be heard of this band of bold Buccaneer racqueteers in future years.

T CLUB

ATHLETES ALL!

The "T" Club this year has developed into one of the most active organizations on the campus. With the initiation of 17 new men who earned the varsity "T" in '34 the "T" club roster shows the names of 37 athletes who represent S. T. C. in all sports. Officers elected at first of the year were: John Oakes, president; Edmund Congdon, Vice-president; Pete Peters, Secretary. For the first time the club presented an entertainment to the student body—a three act farce comedy "So You're From Missouri". The money made from the play was used to give the annual football banquet, marking the first time in history that the "T" club has financed its own "feed".

The club scored a second hit at the Sigma Omega's annual "Barn-warmin'" when it produced a specialty music and dance act. Also for the first time, the club has a picture in the Senior Chalk Line Edition. Next year the "T" club has resolved to elect and aid the varsity cheer leaders.

The members taken in this year by the "T" club are: Dyer, Thornton, Kilday, Walker, Shields, Shelton, Sams, Sabin, Bowman, Jones, D. Sams, Bray, Todd, Clark, Lucas, Smith, and Jamison.

superiority of the team in this game. Most all the game was played in Tusculum territory. Jamison, Shields, Congdon, Taylor, and Jones were the best, perhaps, but all the team played outstanding all the way through.

On Thanksgiving afternoon with the conference championship at stake, Milligan was met at the new Roosevelt Stadium before a record-breaking crowd. Milligan's grim determination to avenge the humiliating defeat of the previous year was not to be overcome, and they completely outplayed the Buccaneers to win 14-0. Sabin played well at center in this game. Jamison and Boyer were the best backs.

The close of the season found the State team occupying the third rung of the conference ladder. They contributed three men to the All-conference team. Captain Hunt at fullback, Massengill at end, and Congdon at tackle.

In the passing of Hunt and Massengill this year we see two of the Teachers College's greatest football men going out. In the memory of their scores of admirers, their names shall ever be engraved in unperishable letters. They are regarded as the best players to ever play their respective positions at T. C.

CLUBS and ORGANIZATIONS

THE ART CLUB

The Art Club can boast of something very different in its program of activities for the year. The staging of a successful puppet show, "Hansel and Gretel", under the direction of Josephine Cloninger, displayed great achievements of the members of the club.

The club has also had the privilege of securing an interesting and educational exhibit of famous prints from New York.

These have been the outstanding activities of the club although there were other programs of interest.

Miss Slocumb is the club sponsor and the officers for the year were:

President ----- Marian Bristol
 Vice-President ----- Jessie Rutledge
 Sec.-Treas. ----- Josephine Cloninger

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club began the year with the determination of enrolling every home economics student. We did not completely reach our mark, but we did get the largest enrollment in years. The club has had several interesting programs, and its main social features have been teas and a Hallowe'en party in the Home Management House.

The most interesting project of the year was the filming of the various activities in the Home Economics department. The idea is to show the film in various high schools and thereby advertise our own department.

Officers of the club for the year were:

President ----- Frances Shoun
 Vice-President ----- Marian Bristol
 Secretary ----- Muriel Loughead
 Treasurer ----- Wilma Dean Sherrod

SPEECH ARTISTS

The Teachers College debating squad has made forensic history this year. In the first place the membership in our chapter of the national Pi Kappa Delta honorary forensic fraternity has grown to approximately 20 members, and our prestige has increased considerably as well since we won the district P. K. D. debating championship over competitors from three states. Secondly, we debated 30 scheduled times during the current season, which is about a 30 percent increase over former years.

The girl's team, composed of Carrier, Converse, Wade, and Keyes, didn't have the experience that their opposition possessed, but they managed to win 2 out of 6 debates in spite of their handicap.

The boy's team, made up of Oakes, Burbage, Belew, Parsley, Garland, Sabin, and Barnes, won 4 out of 6 debates with neighboring colleges.

We sent a two-man team to the state tournament held in Nashville. Burbage and Oakes won many honors. Burbage ranked high in individual speech ratings, and Oakes won second place in after-dinner speaking.

Prof. Cox and this same team traveled to Franklin, Indiana to the district P. K. D. tourney where select debaters from three states were competing. The Burbage-Oakes combination won first place in debate. Burbage won third place in extempore speaking, and Oakes won first place in after-dinner speaking. Prof. Cox was unanimously elected Province Governor of P. K. D., which makes him the "head man" in the Pi Kappa Delta work in three states; Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana. We feel justly proud of our T. C. speech artists.

SIGMA OMEGA ACTIVITIES

1934-35

Dear Sigma:

Things have been humming around here for the past nine months. Our club started off with a bang when on October 11 we voted ten new members into our fold. The next two weeks were busy with the sacred initiatory rites; and speeches, performances (public and private) and servile humility were the order of the day. The big event was the banquet on October 18 at the John Sevier which ended our fall initiations.

The annual Barnwarmin' which, as you know, is our society's affair, was especially successfully this year. It was held in the Training School gym which you would hardly have recognized—it was so full of straw, hay fodder, and other autumn decorations. The prize for the best stunt was awarded to the Pi Sigmas who gave a series of entertaining and really artistic performances. To make a perfect ending, Elizabeth Brown, a senior and outstanding club member, was chosen Queen of the Barnwarmin' while Jackie Chambers, Caroline Hannah, Asenath Birchfiel, and Mary Grigsby were her attendants.

On December 13, before we went home for the Christmas holidays, Santa visited us in our club room and left each girl a small present—fun for all!

Another holiday affair was our Valentine party at the girls' dormitory. We appropriately played heart dice, and Eloise Andrews carried off a big red heart-shaped box of candy.

More fun was in store for all of us when several of the members were hostesses for a combination bridge-monopoly party at Eloise's home on March 30. Our president also entertained us very highly at her home.

The other spring events of special interest were the affair for the Pi Sigmas in early May, and the house party at Unaka Springs. You know we always have so much fun on the house party, and we had both the fall and spring pledges to tend to—work for the old members.

So you see that all together we have had a busy, eventful nine months with a little work and many good times combined. We have seven seniors graduating this year. I guess you know most of them: Margaret Ballard, Eva Bray, Betty Bristol, Marian Bristol, Elizabeth Brown, Martha Clemmer, and Beatrice Ernest. We wish all these girls the best of success and happiness.

Y. W. C. A. ACTIVITIES

The school year of 1934-35 has been very successful for the Y. W. C. A. On each Wednesday evening there has been a program given by the members or by a visiting speaker. Vesper services on Sunday evening have also been conducted by Y. W. C. A. members.

The money made in the candy store was used in remodeling the store, buying new song books, buying goblets, a ladle, and games.

S. T. C. ALUMNI

Our alumni number 569. Of this number two thirds are women and one third are men. The statistics at best are true only as far as they go; such incomplete information as we have covers only about half of the list. The figures below, which are the results of tabulating what data we have in the alumni office, tell us nothing more than that a given number in each particular classification have engaged in whatever is designated at some time or other since their graduation.

- 141 High School Teachers.
- 147 Elementary Teachers.
- 21 High School Principals.
- 34 Elementary Principals.

POET'S CORNER

MY MEMORY PICTURE

Among the many pictures which nature has painted for me I cherish most the scenes on the campus of S. T. C. I'll ne'er forget the sapphire skies, the alabaster hills, Or the beaming rays of sunshine on silver winding rills, The huge, majestic oak trees, the slender, graceful pines, The tall and stately poplars, the little clinging vines, The glistening of a rain drop upon an odorous flower, The brilliant gleams of sunshine after every shower; The flashing of the gold fish, and the rippling waterfall, The slender red bud trees, the flowers by the wall, The music of a singing bird with colored wings and tail, The splashing of the water on lily pads so frail; The dots of flowers on the grass, the shadows by a tree, Yes—these, and countless other things are in my memory. And when my facial features bear a worn or troubled look I turn these pages of memory just as I'd turn a book; And soon my heart is comforted; my cares quickly cease. My burdens then are lifted, and my heart regains its peace. I soon forget my troubled state, the cares and all the whirl, And I find myself enchanted with the beauties of God's world.

Juanita Morgan.

AFTER TWILIGHT

If I could paint a picture As master artists do I'd spread it all around A little girl like you. I'd paint a background of mountains And hang our moon above. I'd have you right in the foreground In an ideal place for love. Then I'd sit down beside you In the soft romantic light. That I'd call my picture Of an ideal mountain night.

H. C. Perry.

ON LEAVING COLLEGE

Today, my dear,
I'm dreaming
Just as I always do
Of moonlight nights
And Sundays
Rapturously spent
With you.
Of work and play
And study
'Neath the trees
At dear T. C.,
Of hikes and shows
And shadows
Wonderful days
For me.
I'm wishing you
A world of happiness,
All in life that's fine.
Already I've given you
The best I have—
This love-filled heart
Of mine.
